

Jack Tompkins

Speaker and Founder

Keynote Speaking and Small Group Workshops
Founder of Pineapple Consulting Firm

Jack Tompkins speaks about data (yawn). I expected this to be a super boring topic. I WAS WRONG! Jack made data fun and approachable and meaningful!

-Phil Gerbyshak, Gerbycasts

The quick summary...

Jack is a people person first and a data person second.

That's why his presentations are engaging and fun... even he knows that data can be boring sometimes!

Jack absolutely loves helping people and making something that most people despise (data) into something easy and attainable.

In small group workshops, Jack holds a very interactive session that walks small business owners through the process of becoming more data-driven, regardless of what level they're starting at.

For large group speeches, Jack keeps the presentation lively and engaging while delivering immediately implementable next steps for the crowd.

4.7 of 5

Very interesting and relevant, simple and effective. Great topic, great speaker!

-Renaissance Executive Forum members

Jack@PineappleCF.com

www.pineapplejacktompkins.com

980.477.5078

Jack's presentation hit the sweet spot by presenting a common sense yet focused approach to develop and use key data points to support and drive small business decisions! Several mentors went out of their way to express appreciation and satisfaction with the presentation.

-Peter Safir, SCORE

